

Iron County Register

BY ELI D. AKE.
IRONTON, MISSOURI

NEWS AND NOTES.

A Summary of Important Events.

The last surviving son of Wordsworth, the poet, died in London, Eng., a few days ago.

There were several banquets in Madrid, Spain, on the 11th in celebration of the Spanish Republic.

The prohibitionists of Kentucky will hold a convention for nominating State officers in Louisville March 20.

EX-GOVERNOR MARSHALL JEWELL, who had been ill with bronchial pneumonia, died at Hartford, Conn., on the 10th.

SEVEN of the Annapolis (Md.) cadet, in solitary confinement for writing insulting letters, were released on the 8th.

At Williamsport, Pa., on the 12th they were cutting a channel through a gorge twenty miles long to avert flood disaster.

Tax Sequi-Centennial of the settlement of Georgia by General Oglethorpe was celebrated with due pomp at Savannah on the 12th.

A PROPOSITION to submit a prohibition amendment to the Constitution to a vote of the people was defeated in the West Virginia State Senate a few days ago.

Tax business failures in the United States and Canada for the seven days ended on the 8th were $75, a reduction of thirty, as compared with the seven days previous.

The Maine House of Representatives a few days ago ordered the prohibition amendment to engrossment by a vote of 104 to 37. An attempt to exempt cider failed.

The Committee on Exhibits at the World's Fair, to be held in Boston, Mass., has sent Commissioners to Europe, Asia, Africa, Canada, South America and the Isles of the Sea.

Two companies had applied to the Legislature of Massachusetts the other day for charters to build a ship canal across Cape Cod, offering to deposit $200,000 as a guarantee fund.

CLEVELAND (O.) vessel-owners the other day resolved to postpone until May the opening of navigation, and to reduce the wages of captains and engineers, as well as sailors, ten to fifteen per cent.

TREVELYAN, Chief Secretary of Ireland, in a speech at Hawick, Scotland, the other day, said he considered the publication of articles attacking Irish judges and jurors as much a part of murder machinery as the pistol or knife.

In opening the Canadian Parliament, the other day, the Governor-General stated that in passing through the United States he observed many evidences of regard for the British Empire, and hoped that friendship would prove enduring.

At a banquet in the Grand Central Hotel, New York, the other night, given in honor of Senor Malo, of the city of Mexico, General Grant declared that in fifteen months it would be possible to go by rail from Mexico to any part of the United States.

THE Chicago (Ill.) Board of Trade a few days ago passed resolutions against the transfer of the revenue marine, life-saving and marine hospital services to the control of the Navy Department, and against establishing a maritime bureau in that Department.

THE London Times, in an eulogy of Judah P. Benjamin, who recently retired from practice in the London courts because of a warning by eminent physicians in regard to the dangerous condition of his heart, said English mercantile law had profited by the reception accorded in England to Louisiana's accomplished jurist.

THE Ohio River floods far exceeded the limits which had been apprehended on the 12th. At Cincinnati business was entirely suspended and the Chamber of Commerce organized relief committees. The Kentucky River was still rising. Warning was given of approaching floods in the Mississippi, between Memphis and Cairo. The Monongahela was reported falling.

At a meeting for the reorganization of the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad by the bondholders and stockholders, held at Chillicothe, O., the other day, the name of the new company was fixed as the Cincinnati, Washington & Baltimore Railroad Company, and a Board of Directors was elected. The Board met in Cincinnati the next day and organized by the selection of officers.

GOOD business men at Cincinnati, O., who were not sensational, saw on the 12th that the damage from the overflow of the Ohio River in Cincinnati, Newport and Covington would amount to millions. The river was sixty-two feet four inches and rising an inch and a half hourly. This was half an inch above the great rise of 1847. In Newport the military barracks were all flooded. Nearly two square miles of the city was under water. People were receiving coal and provisions from boats through second and third story windows. All houses and factories on the river front of Covington were flooded, and the water was in the second story of some of them. Nearly ten miles of the river front of Cincinnati was more or less under water. Along the landing the flood was up to the second and third stories of many buildings. The gas works were submerged, and there was only gas enough to last through the night. The water supply was also threatened. The city of Lawrenceburg, Ind., twenty miles below Cincinnati, was entirely submerged. The people had telephoned for bread, and it would have to be delivered to them in skiffs. At Louisville, Ky., there was thirty-six feet in the canal, and something less on the falls. The ground around all houses on Water street was inundated. The Kentucky River was thirty-four feet and rising at Frankfort. At Wheeling, W. Va., the Ohio was falling, but Wheeling Creek was higher than during the recent rise. The Monongahela was rising again, Pittsburgh, Pa., reporting fourteen and a half feet, while points above there reported the river rising at the rate of twenty inches an hour.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

THREE Chinamen were murdered in cold blood near Fort Bayard, N. M., a few days ago by a party of Mexicans. One of the murderers was afterward captured, and a watch belonging to the dead Chinaman was found in his possession.

At Detroit, Mich., fire destroyed the Albion Milling Company's mill the other morning, entailing a loss of $100,000.

A FIRE on the farm of a Pierre Lorillard, at Jobstown, N. J., the other day, cremated twenty-four draft-horses and six mules.

JOHN O'NEIL, a wholesale liquor-dealer of Troy, N. Y., after selling seventy-four packages in Vermont, was found within the limits of that State a few days ago and placed in Federal custody. He had appealed to the Federal courts, under the Fourteenth amendment.

Mr. KINGSLEY to protest against the proposition to take Yellowstone Park from Wyoming, giving it to Montana, were reported recently being held all over Wyoming.

FOURTEEN Socialists were arrested in Spain a few days ago charged with murdering a peasant.

It was stated on the 8th that more than 150 bodies had been stolen from Montreal (Canada) graveyards this winter.

THE French authorities at Paris have released Prince Napoleon, the indictment against him being quashed.

W. A. CROPP, a prosperous merchant of Montgomery, Ala., was arrested a few days ago, charged with rifling the mails. It was thought his mind was deranged by spiritualism.

THE high price of crude India rubber was the reason given by the leading factories in the United States for closing up the other day, throwing eight thousand persons out of employment.

THE telegraph and elevated railroad litigation, which had been in progress in New York City for some time, was reported compromised on the 10th.

Two prisoners made a desperate attempt to escape by jumping from the Penitentiary wall at Jefferson City, Mo., the other day, but were recaptured.

During the excitement over the lynching of a negro at Paola, Kans., the other day, a bank forger who kept perfectly cool negotiated a spurious check at the bank in that place.

A YOUNG man named Freeman, who eloped with a farmer's daughter near Charlotte, Mich., a few days ago, was pursued by the father and shot in the head, it was thought fatally.

THE Arlington cotton mills at Wilmington, Del., closed a few days ago on account of a strike. Five hundred hands were thrown out of employment.

B. F. GRIER's saw-mill, at Charlotte, Mich., blew up the other morning, instantly killing the proprietor and the engineer.

RONDOUR, N. Y., had a serious fire on the 11th. A steamboat and several business houses were destroyed.

At a late hour the other night a mail pouch in the baggage room at Cedar Rapids, Ia., was broken open and 140 registered letters taken. The amount of the loss was unknown, though it was thought to be considerable. No clew to the robbers.

LOUISA MONTAGUE, the $10,000 beauty, recovered $150 from Adam Forepaugh recently, for breach of contract, and had sued for damages on account of falling from the back of an elephant while in Illinois two years ago. She received a salary of $100 per week during her travels.

HERMAN HARNER, a dealer in dry goods at Jersey City, N. J., having been convicted of knowingly receiving $10,000 worth of stolen property, was recently sentenced to State prison for eighteen months.

At an auction sale of uncollected packages in the express office at Pueblo, Colo., the other day, James Thompson risked one dollar on a box which he found contained two gold bricks, worth over $11,000.

CITIZENS of Chihuahua, Mex., organized a company and attacked a band of Apaches recently, killing twelve of them and capturing thirty-three. In a fight on the border of Sonora, Mexican troops killed one hundred Indians and took sixty prisoners.

An organ valued at $6,000, which was to be removed from the old into the new First Baptist Church of Denver, Colo., was the other day damaged $2,000 worth by vandals, who broke the pipes and castings.

WILLIAM BARLOW was arrested in New York City a few days ago on suspicion of being the man who robbed Miss Isherwood, daughter of the Chief Engineer of the United States Navy, on the streets of that city some time since. Miss Isherwood identified Barlow as the highwayman.

At New York a bartender named Charles D. Seebach fired upon a party of boys who were snowballing him the other day and killed John Noonan, aged nine years.

MORE Sophomores were ordered to leave Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., a few days ago on account of their connection with hazing. This made twelve who were obliged to leave within two weeks.

THE places of the striking cotton mill operatives at Wilmington, Del., had been filled on the 12th, and the mills were running.

At St. Petersburg, Russia, three exiles of the Mutual Credit Society and four other persons, convicted of forgery and squandering funds of the society, were recently sentenced to a loss of civil rights and exile.

ALL the visible assets of the coal and iron firm of Rogers & Co., one of the oldest houses in Chicago, Ill., established forty years ago, was seized by the sheriff the other day. The liabilities were estimated at $125,000.

At Waterbury, Conn., nearly three hundred persons were reported seized with winter cholera the other day, supposed to be the result of a mixture of melted snow with city water.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

FEBRUARY 7.—At the close of the morning business the Senate held a brief executive session, and when the doors were reopened the tariff bill was taken up. The tariff bill embracing women's and children's dress goods, clothing, carpets and endless belts or belts, was taken up. The tariff bill was given to the Committee on Finance an opportunity to consider it further. The bill scheduled was adopted as reported from the committee. Books, pamphlets, maps, etc., were placed on the free list. The motion to put the bill on making paper free was lost. The sundries schedule was next taken up and some changes made. The House during the remainder of the session, will take a recess from 3:30 to 7:30 p. m. The tariff bill was taken up in committee. The whole bill was taken up and consideration of the motion to adopt the tariff schedule as agreed upon by the Senate was ruled out of order. The bill was then taken up in committee. When the committee rose a bill was introduced for the appointment of a commission to inquire into the methods of the various telegraph companies.

FEBRUARY 8.—The President laid before the Senate a memorial of the Legislature of Kansas with reference to pleuro-pneumonia. After a brief executive session the tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up and consideration of the free list was completed. A message was received from the President transmitting a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the necessity for the repression of evasions and violations of laws relating to public lands. In the House, a joint resolution to admit free of duty a monument to George Washington, to be erected by a Cincinnati society, was passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff